Influence areas

Entertainment and events

Companies that organize events, festivals, conferences and exhibitions are ideal customers. They are interested in creating immersive experiences in the metaverse and using VR 360 to broadcast events in the metaverse.

Tourism

Companies offering tourism and hospitality services will benefit from creating virtual experiences in the metaverse, allowing customers to explore destinations and properties before physically visiting them.

Real Estate and Architecture

Real estate agents and architectural firms could use the capabilities of creating land, building and interior scenes in the metaverse to showcase properties virtually and allow clients to experience immersive tours prior to construction or purchase.

Fashion and Beauty

Fashion and beauty brands can use the metaverse and NFT to create unique shopping experiences, allowing customers to customize avatars, virtually test products and participate in virtual fashion events.

Influence areas

Education and Training

Educational institutions and training companies can leverage the metaverse and virtual reality to deliver immersive, hands-on learning experiences in virtual environments.

Marketing & Advertising

Marketing and advertising agencies can use the metaverse and 360 VR experiences to create innovative and immersive campaigns that engage consumers and highlight their products or services.

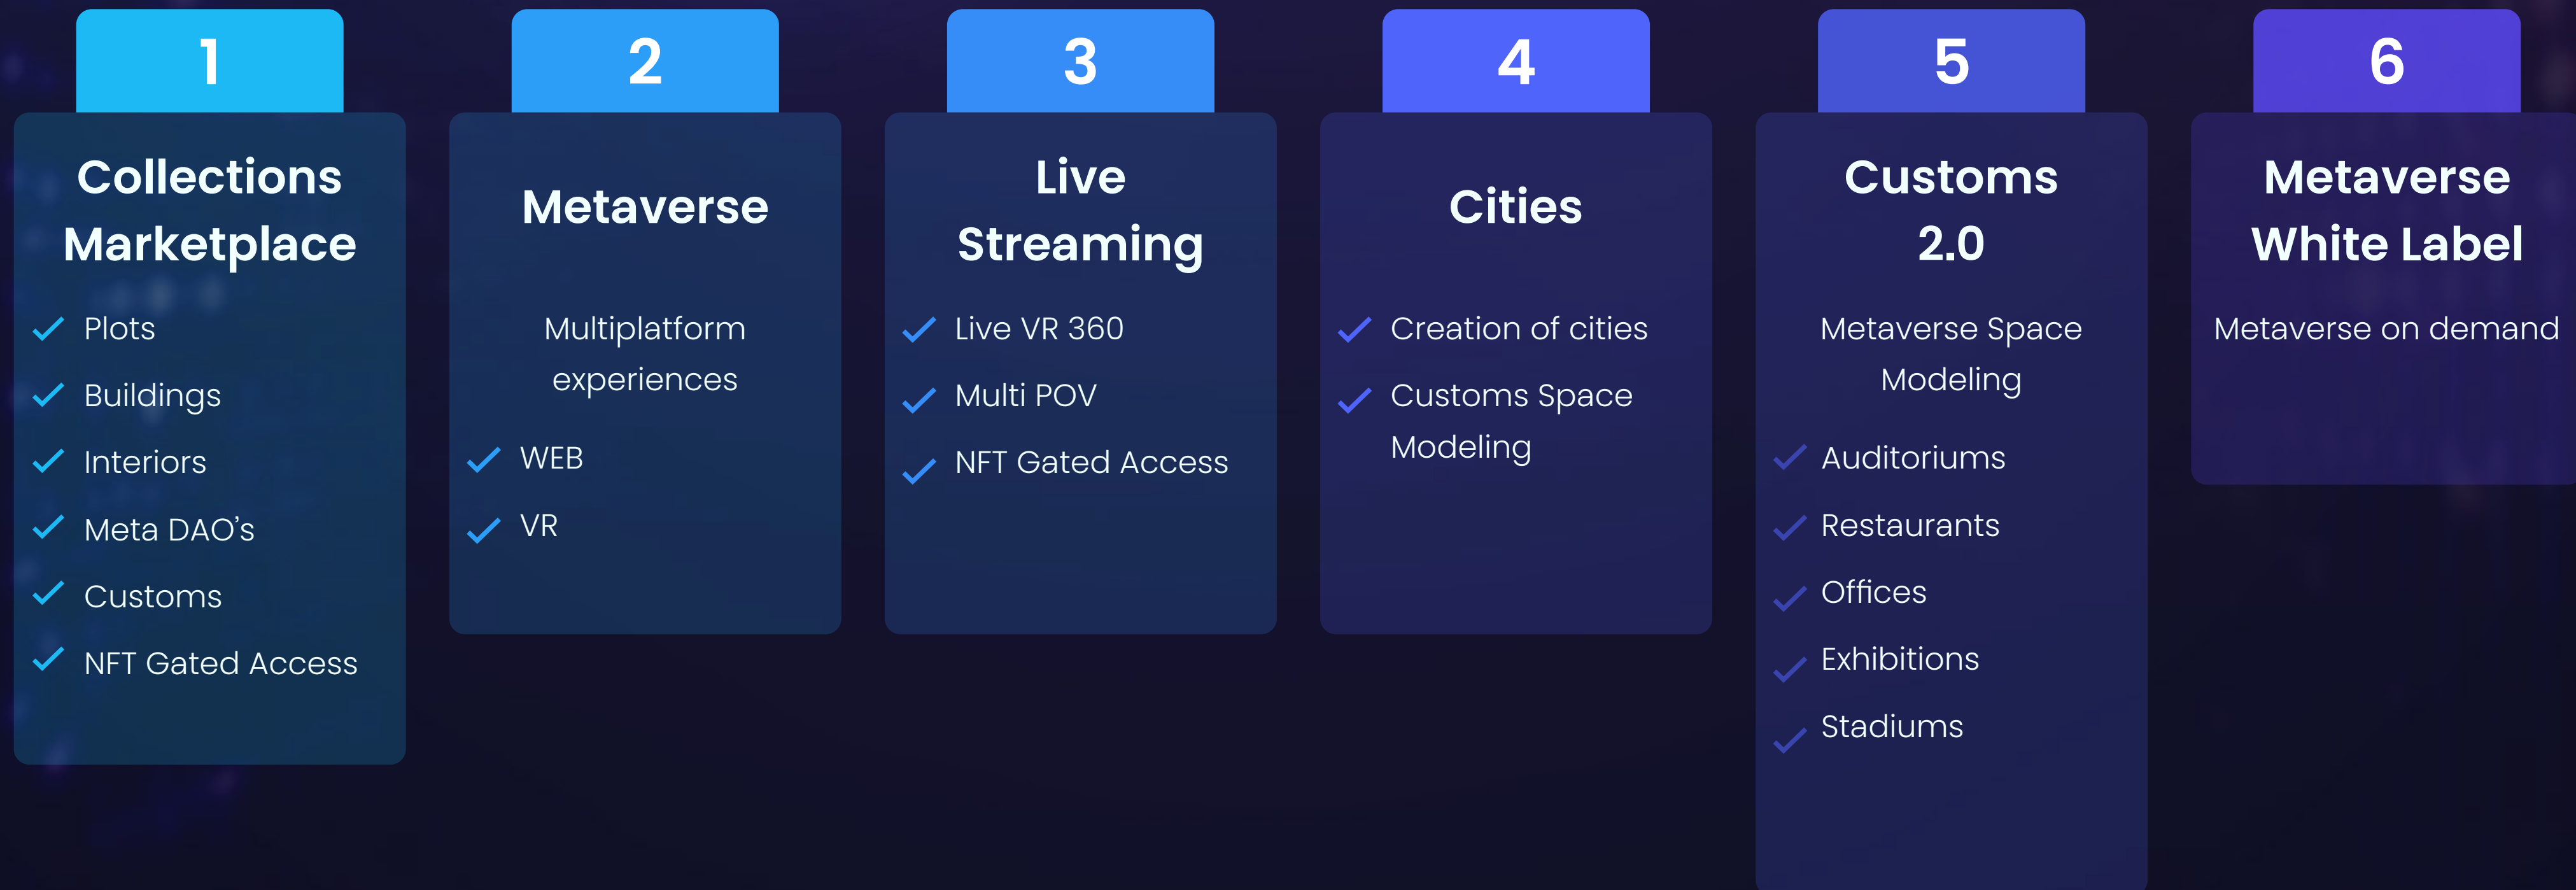

VC / Investors

Investors who believe in the project and who will enhance the project's evolution.
